Topper

This is Walpole. It is known today as the "friendly town," and the "hockey town", and can trace its history back to the days of the Massassoit, Chicatabut, and King Philip, the good Indian. Its first white settlers were Puritans who bought the area from Chicatabut and King Philip. Pioneers were brought to Walpole on the Old Post Road to gain land and lumber from the cedar swamps. When a sawmill was built in 1659, settlers began to establish homesteads. Some of the first settlers, the Clapps, Fales, and Churches are still familiar names in Walpole.
Our Saw Mill Community broke away from Dedham and formed the town named in honor of England's prime minister, Sir Robert Walpole. Since the sawmill brought the pioneers the incentive to settle, it has been incorporated into our town and school seal.

Entering Walpole

Lewis Statue

In January, 1775, the Minute Men of Walpole were organized and as soon as news reached Walpole of the battle at Lexington, our men marched against the British. During the Civil War, many Walpole men served in the Army of the North. Thus, a patriotic heritage was bequeathed to the present Walpole citizens.

One of Walpole's older homes

The design for the seal of the town of Walpole was from an original drawing by Miss Edna Buck, a pupil of the Walpole High School at the time, and was accepted by the town as its official seal on March 2, 1914

The government of Walpole is pure New England Town Meeting form which allows the individual equal vote in choosing town officials, in preserving all worth-while traditions, in conducting the business of the present and in planning for the future of our fast-growing town. It is protected by its own police and fire departments. Walpole also possesses a newly acquired ambulance service and an efficient visiting nurse organization which give medical aid and assistance to the townspeople. Blackburn Memorial Hall was given by Mrs. Harriet Nevin in 1931 in memory of her family.
It is used by the young and old alike for public and private functions.

The old must move out to make way for the new in life just as a class leaves and another takes its place. Yet there remains here the same spirit which moved the Walpole of some 300 years ago. Town sponsored sports, play grounds, cultural opportunities, adult education and the celebrating of various holidays create a town which is united in many common concerns.

Walpole's new Junior High began its first year in 1961, with a capacity for 850 students. Plans are already being considered for a second Junior High in the near future. The first joint auditorium and cafeteria was built into this modern building.
At present, the Walpole school system contains nine elementary schools, distributed throughout the various sections of town.
The Bird School, located on Washington Street in East Walpole, faces Bird Park where many of us spent our summer days utilizing the sports facilities provided by the park management.

Plimpton, one of the older schools in town, is proud to have been used to educate many of the parents of our present class members.
The original Stone School has been supplemented by a new Stone School, both side by side on School Street near the center of town.
Walpole's school system continues to expand with the times. Along with the new schools and additions throughout the past few years, Walpole has also kept up with the trends in education through an honors program in foreign language and science courses at the elementary schools.

The new Fisher School, a short distance from the old building, was built on Gould Street several years ago.
Boyden School boasts a modern new addition, with a spacious cafeteria-auditorium combination (cafetorium).

Walpole is very proud of its many fine libraries. In addition to the spacious Main Library, Walpole also has instituted branch libraries in East Walpole and North Walpole. Our libraries have provided us with the necessary information to prepare ourselves for either further study or a rich, productive trade.

Walpole Public Library

East Walpole Library

The School Library has ordered books which have aligned Walpole more closely with the world. With new discoveries made each day, the graduates of '64 can look up and away to a world which is waiting, just as the world awaited those early settlers of long ago.
The church has played a vital role in Walpole. Its path has been traced in Walpole's history to the present day. We now have in Walpole the Congregational, United, Methodist, Catholic and Episcopal Churches.

United Church

St. Mary's Church

Blessed Sacrament Church

Congregational Church

Through excellent churches, schools and libraries, Walpole continues to produce citizens who will increase their town's reputation as a friendly, United States community.

The Class of 1964 has gained experience which cannot be measured by school grades. The practical knowledge of living together is the very essence of the town of Walpole, as shown so vividly by the support given to the hockey teams in past years. Walpole and Walpole High School are inseparable, and all the richer for it—looking forward to a future with scholarship and sportsmanship in school and town reaching, upward and outward.

JOHN F. POWERS
SUPERINTENDENT

November 26, 1963

To the Class of 1964:

Research, the application of new knowledge to industrial processes, and automation are remaking the economy of our country. The scope and rapidity of this change are bringing about what some have called The Second Industrial Revolution. The impacts of this revolution are profound for education. Our schools and colleges must respond to the new and changing demands being made upon them.

Here at Walpole High School you have seen evidence of the tremendous encouragement and financial backing the people of Walpole have given us in order that we might give you highly competent instructors, the latest in textbooks, excellent library services, science laboratories, a language laboratory, strong curriculum courses adapted to fit your needs.

Citizens of Walpole - parent and non-parent alike - have accepted the challenge of our time to provide these educational services for you. Remember, education must be a lifelong process. To survive as productive members of our society and even to enjoy the opportunities offered by the promise of additional leisure will require additional knowledge and lifelong learning.

Congratulations and best wishes!

Sincerely
John F Powers

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To the Class of 1964

You have accomplished one of your goals in life—graduation from high school.

The degree of intensiveness of purpose among class members to accomplish this goal varied considerably. How about you? Have you used your potential? Have you been selfish enough to take advantage of opportunities which once offered are not repeated?

You will set many positive goals for yourself in the future. As each year goes by these goals become more difficult to attain. Be persistent, yet tolerant; extend yourself to your full height.

Best wishes for success in your future personal endeavors.

THE ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS

Mr. Riley has served as Assistant Principal since 1962. He has been in charge of keeping us in school, in class, and on time for the past three years. Although his job is a hard one for some of us to appreciate, Mr. Riley will always be remembered as a controversial character in our high school life.

Mr. Riley

Where were you last period? (or Smile, you've got an hour!)

I wish this phone came with instructions!

In our senior year, Mr. Stacey came to replace Mr. O'Donnell at Walpole High. Those who have known and worked with Mr. Stacey will remember his friendliness and helpfulness. The class of 1964 wishes Mr. Stacey many successful years at Walpole.

Mr. Stacey

DEDICATION

It is with deep appreciation for her ability and sincere interest in us that we, the class of 1964 and the editors of Topper, dedicate this record of our memories to Miss Eleanor Flynn. Although Miss Flynn does not teach Seniors, her influence on our years as underclassmen was keenly felt. The serious study but also the fun which we have shared with her will always be remembered as we return to our high school days through these pages.

And so it is with this recognition, Miss Flynn, that we wish to express our gratitude to you for the part you have played in our years at Walpole High School.

. . . Selects "Our Town" Theme

Each year the yearbook staff tries to bring to the students of Walpole High and to the town of Walpole a book which will be a fitting tribute to the graduating class. This year we have tried to produce the best book to honor what we believe is the best graduating class in the history of Walpole High. This year's TOPPER honors Miss Flynn, to whom we dedicate the book, and the town of Walpole, which we have selected as our theme. In creating this TOPPER we have tried to compile all the memories of our years at Walpole High School so that we may have them forever.

Is everyone thinking about the Yearbook?

GUIDANCE

We are fortunate at Walpole to have had a very industrious department of guidance. Mr. Geib and his staff have worked hard to put us into colleges and jobs from Walpole High. By their awareness of the problems that we may encounter in the future, they have given us advice which should benefit us in coming years.

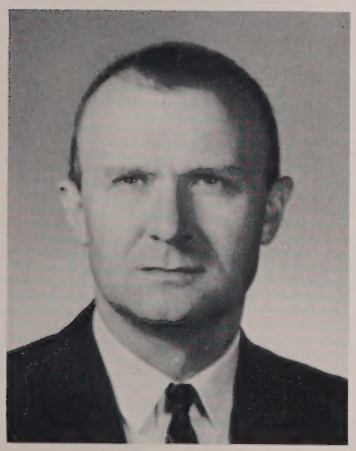
BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

With its up-to-date machines and patient teachers, the Business Department, directed by Mr. Manning, has helped us prepare for our immediate rolls as responsible adults and competent workers. The students are fortunate to have the benefit of modern typewriters, calculating machines, and sound teaching methods, which are related to today's business world.

Miss Howe



Mr. Valaitis

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English Department, headed by Miss Dorothy Newcomb and aided by her able staff, teaches all of us the best ways of speaking, writing and reading our language. In the English classes the newest methods are incorporated with the established ones to develop the potential ability of each student. Each of us has received supplemental courses in library skills; appreciation of literature; creative writing; business writing; and public speaking.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Science Department has the important task of instilling in its students the knowledge necessary for the technical world of today. With courses offered in biology, physiology, chemistry, and physics, the students have a variety of scientific fields available to them. Under the capable direction of Mr. Innes the staff has worked to present the complicated concepts of atoms, algae, and electric currents.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Our Mathematics Department, which is headed by Miss Marjorie Sline, has tried to integrate new modern mathematical ideas into a standard curriculum. In this way Walpole's mathematics students have been able to learn both practical and theoretical mathematics. The Mathematics Department produces students who will be able to perform such varied tasks as computing income taxes or calculating the cube root of i.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

The Social Studies Department headed by Miss Louise Darmedy has this year expanded its curriculum to include a new course entitled International Relations. The other major change in the department resulted in making Problems of Democracy a compulsory subject for all students in the senior class. The aim of this department is to acquaint the students with the events of the past as well as the problems in today's everchanging world.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The Language Department, through classroom procedures and outside functions, is active in teaching the fundamentals of a foreign language and providing a greater understanding of foreign ideas and customs. The department has expanded in the recent years to provide a full rich background in modern languages for Walpole students. The new French IV class has proved its worth and the numerous foreign languages classes clearly show an increase in the need for a knowledge of two or three languages in today's world of international affairs.

HOME ECONOMICS

The purpose of the Home Economics class is to teach girls to apply the principles of art, economics, and human relationships to the problems of personal and family living. The classes teach the girls how to work competently in their homes by developing the essential homemaking skills of cooking, nutrition, menu-planning in addition to the construction, color co-ordination, and care of clothing.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The efforts put forth by the Athletic Department have instilled within the minds of each of us a sense of good sportsmanship and fair play, which will guide us into the future. They have given their time not only in regular school activities, but also in extra-curricular functions. Throughout the years they have given each student an opportunity to participate in athletics.

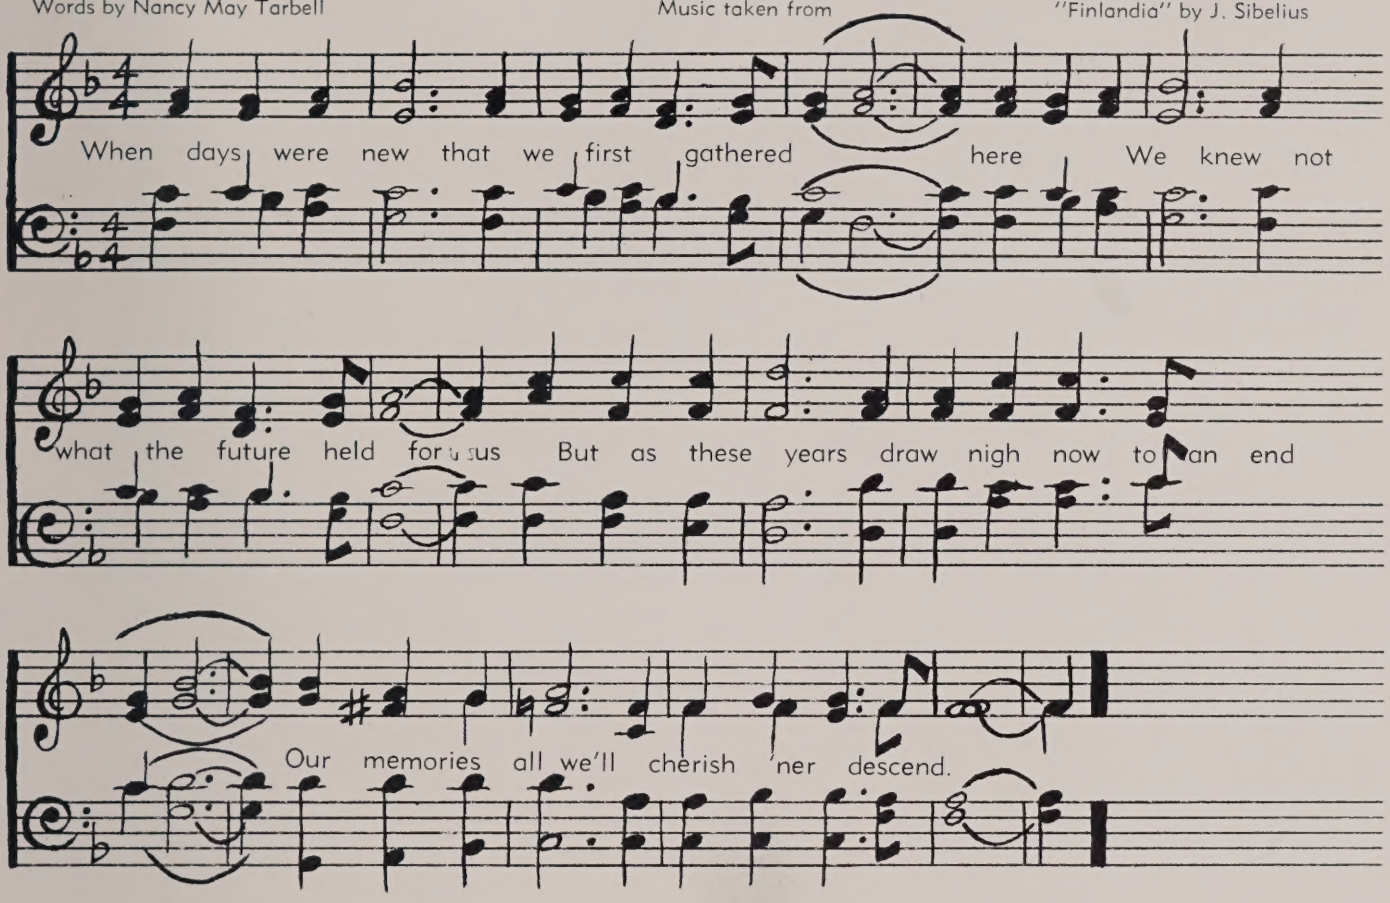
CLASS SONG 1964

Words by Nancy May Tarbell

Music taken from "Finlandia" by J. Sibelius



When days were new that we first gathered here We knew not what the future held for us But as these years draw nigh now to an end
Our memories all we'll cherish 'ner descend.

With gladness sing this song to all we've done
The halls we traveled, and the friends we've made
A place we'll honor all our lives to share
Our hearts remember all those who care.

As time does carry each our separate ways
We'll find that life has much to offer us.
Our thoughts will linger on the days gone by
We sing our song in praise of Walpole High.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

SOPHOMORE YEAR

We entered our sophomore year with mixed feelings of elation and disappointment; elation because the construction of a new junior high school in East Walpole had made the high school a four year institution and had saved us from the horrible fate of occupying the bottom rung of the ladder; and disappointment because we were again relegated to the older section of the building. We proceeded to break any existing political barriers by electing Kathleen O'Neil as our class president and to assist her Peter Norwell, Vice-president; Alan Andrews, Treasurer; and Kathleen Rogers, Secretary.

We were initiated into the school along with the freshmen with a rather exhausting rendition of "The Mexican Hat Dance" at the Senior Fiesta. Our Sophomore dance "The Enchanted Sea" was a great success, and we were highly praised for our beautiful decorations. We were well represented in all school activities including the first annual Student Council sponsored "Bermuda Day."

Several of our boys received an opportunity to demonstrate the athletic prowess of the class when the "after prom plans" of the upper class athletes failed to coincide with those of the varsity baseball coach, Mr. Robert Powers.

The year was briefly but disturbingly interrupted by a rather costly and thoughtless episode. A bomb threat was phoned in to the school office, and by a state law, the school had to be evacuated. We were sent home, and several days later the school committee enacted a ruling that in case of further incidents of this nature, the day lost would be added on at the end of the year.

Walpole High School

We began building a reputation as the "Non-conformist Class" by closing the year with our trip to Rocky Point, Rhode Island, instead of the traditional excursion to Nantasket Beach.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

L. to R.: Mark Horton, Treasurer; Marlene Mastropieri, Secretary; Kathleen O'Neil, Vice-president; Jerry Delaney, President.

JUNIOR YEAR

To get our junior year off on the right foot, we began by electing capable officers: Jerry Delaney, President; Kathleen O'Neil, Vice-president; Marlene Mastropieri, Secretary; Mark Horton, Treasurer. Our athletic season oppeared futile when the football team adopted its never-say-die motto, "Drop back fifteen, dig in, and save the equipment." The social season was ushered in by another successful class dance; the theme of which was a source of much debate in both houses of "Congress." It was finally decided that the dance would bear the theme "Tonight" from the popular movie "West Side Story."

The greater part of the winter was spent cheering on our incomparable hockey team which captured, to the delight of all, the state championship. With the close of the hockey season we settled down to the task of making plans for our forthcoming Junior Prom. Again we proved that we were a "Non-conformist" class by changing the date to the April vacation and the place to the Blue Hill Country Club. With the theme "Rhapsody in Blue" this highlight of our junior year proved even more successful than our previous social ventures.

The Light And Serious . . . The

After much patient waiting and wondering we received the news that our class rings were to be delivered to the school. We were especially anxious to see the new style which we had ordered and to display the fact that we were now juniors, almost seniors.

On a very dismal June day we set out for Horseneck Beach to supplement the activities which we had enjoyed together as juniors. Our trip was slightly delayed due to an incident beyond our control; by some freak of nature the hat in which we had put all our money blew out the window. After collecting most of our money, which was strewn all over Route 27, we continued on our way hoping our bad luck would change. Braving the cold weather, everyone ventured into the cold water, determined that bad weather would not spoil a good time. Luck changed as by lunchtime the sun was shining. Before returning home we stopped at Lincoln Park and spent the remainder of our money on the amusements. The enjoyment of the day was overshadowed by the fact that several favorite classmates would not spend their Senior year at Walpole High.

Our class was the first to have an exchange student abroad. Jane Whinnem was selected as a representative to Belgium from Walpole High. We wished Jane farewell as we looked forward to our final one-hundred and eighty days at Walpole High.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Seated: Jerry Delaney, President; Kathy O'Neil, Secretary; Standing: Mark Horton, Treasurer; John Silvi, Vice-president.

Gay And Sad Moments

SENIOR YEAR

As we entered the school in September, we all realized that this was our year—Senior year at Walpole High School. The officers elected to guide all the coming activities were Jerry Delaney, President; John Silvi, Vice President; Kathy O'Neil, Secretary; and Mark Horton, Treasurer. The Senior Dance was the first objective and we busily planned for its success. Thanksgiving was chosen as the date and so quite naturally the theme of the dance. However, November 22, 1963 intervened. No one will ever forget that Friday or the class they were attending when the tragic news of the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy was announced over the Public Address. Therefore our spirits were very low at the first gala event. Some of the usual highlights of the fall were cancelled including the field hockey-football game and the cheerleader and baton competition.

Winter and hockey season found everyone in the usual habitat—the Boston Arena. The team displayed true Walpole spirit and fine play surprising the entire league. With the close of hockey, preparations began for the Senior Class Play—"The Happiest Years." The hard work of the actors and actresses resulted in an enjoyable and eventful evening for cast and spectators. The play was not only an artistic success but providently a financial one. To further enhance our treasury the class sponsored a car wash and cake sale.

As spring approached we looked forward to the Junior Prom. We were proud that the Junior Class followed our example and held the Prom at the Blue Hills Country Club. April vacation came and went and thoughts of graduation and days beyond wandered through our minds. Finally, we experienced our last exams and gratefully returned our books. Our class trip was a memorable day at Ted Hilton's. Then graduation . . . a day which culminated four wonderful years at the hill. As we received our diplomas we were unhappy to leave Walpole High but confident that our four years at Walpole High had prepared us for the years ahead.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1964, being of exceptionally sound mind and body do hereby bequeath the following treasured possessions to those whom we must leave:

Article I

To the four lesser divisions of Walpole namely—teachers, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen—we besetow our most prized phonograph record as follows:

"EDITORS DINNER AND SPECIAL CANDIDS"

Hail, Hail the gangs all here at Lafayette's!

"And what would you like for dinner, Lobster or Fillet Mignon?"

The informal gathering at Mrs. Davis' house after the banquet.

Included in this group of parents and teachers is Miss Eleanor Flynn, to whom we dedicated this year's TOPPER.

ROTARY CLUB COOK-OUT

For the second year the Rotary Club of Walpole treated Senior groups to a cook-out. Yearbook and newspaper staffs, Student Council and all athletic groups were included. We were served all we could eat and then went into the Sportsman's Clubhouse to hear a much appreciated guest speaker—Johnny Most, well-known announcer for the Boston Cletics. Awards for past season sports were given out after his talk, followed by a question and answer period. Mr. McGovern then closed the program by reminding us to go straight home . . . oh well . . .

The gang's all here.

Master chefs.

Who's the attention getter?

Come and get it before they do!

Is that "thirds", Val?

Where's everyone going?

NON-TEACHING PERSONNEL

To successfully conduct the affairs of a school and enable it to function efficiently, it takes the work of several individuals other than the teachers. The secretaries, cafeteria personnel and custodians and other school employees are all essential parts of our school. On this page we take time to appreciate the responsibilities they have taken for us.

ACTIVITIES

The clubs and activities at Walpole High provide a welcomed opportunity for students with common interests to meet informally. Since clubs met after school this year, many pupils were not able to attend meetings; however, the clubs still played an active part in life at the hilltop.

Senior Dramatics Score Success . . .

On Friday, April 23, 1964, the Senior Class produced its annual play, this year entitled "The Happiest Years." The cast was well chosen and acted superbly in this successful rendition of the popular Broadway comedy first presented in 1949. As the proceeds went into the Senior class treasury, it helped considerably in the months that followed to financially conclude OUR "Happiest Years" at Walpole High School.

ATHLETICS

Walpole's athletic teams provide the student body with its main source of school spirit. Our students are known for their good sportsmanship and athletic skill. This year, Walpole High School's teams worked hard to produce exciting, if not always victorious results.

FOOTBALL

This year Walpole's record was not the most distinguished in history, but the football team produced talent that will be able to cope with next year's opposition. The team proved itself to be a group with fighting spirit regardless of the outcome. Through hard work and determination, we accomplished our ends and finished the season with a sparkling victory over Framingham North.

Field Hockey Team Undefeated Again!

Walpole High has always had winning field hockey teams and this year was no exception. With two wonderful coaches, Miss Condon and Miss Farina, the girls had another undefeated season. High-scorer was Norma Giandomenico with 14 goals while Captain Jane Whinnem and her defense mates allowed but 3 goals. The many seniors on the team will be missed next fall.

The annual banquet was held at Holiday Haven where everyone had a very enjoyable time.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Even though our boys lacked height, they certainly were not deficient in spirit and true sportsmanship. Throughout the basketball season, the Walpole boys played hard, clean, and exciting basketball. These boys gave their maximum effort in every game, providing exciting entertainment for Walpole's basketball fans.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

For the first time in several years the girls' basketball team had a successful season. Led by high-scorer Linda DiBerto with 58 points, the team compiled a 6-2 record and second place in the standings. The highlight of the season was the victory against Wellesley. No one will forget those last agonizing moments until the final buzzer sounded with Walpole on top by one.

It is hoped that next year's team will possess the spirit and determination of it's predecessors.

HOCKEY

Although the hockey team was unable to bring home the victory laurels as former Walpole High teams, this year's sextet showed all around ability, strong skating, skill and determination, which are characteristics of all Walpole teams. Caught in the middle of a rebuilding year, we almost managed to take top berth in the league but finished fourth. Two members of the team were named to the Bay State League All Star Team—Jerry Delaney as a defenseman and Richard Delaney as a forward.

Russ Jenney

Struggling in a rebuilding year, Walpole failed to attain a winning season. It cannot be said, however, that the Boy's Tennis Team did not play inspiring and thrilling tennis.

N. Tarbell

This year the girls' tennis team made a very fine showing. They never gave up and when the competition got stiffer they played harder. Miss Farina, the coach, was pleased with the successful record compiled by the girls. It is hoped that next year's team will have the determination and incentive so that it will be able to remain a winning team.

Although this year's Hill Top nine did not have an impressive record, they showed hustle, determination, and good sportsmanship. Due to the lack of decisive hitting and pitching we lost many close ball games. The record does not show all the time and effort that was spent in practicing. Since the team had many positions filled by underclassmen, future baseball teams will have a better record with experience.

SOFTBALL

The girls' softball team once again had a successful season. Under the fine leadership of Miss Condon, the team won 6 games and lost 1. The first few were quite easily won, but they found a worthy adversary in Braintree. Although they lost, all will agree that this game was the most exciting one of the year. Next year's team is hoping for sweet revenge.

In the 1964 season, the Walpole High School Golf team continued to dominate the league as it defeated all opponents to record a 9-0 record. Superior play by Jon Hamilton, David Barbour, and Bill Kennedy won an invitation to compete in the State Interscholastic Golf Tournament.

Golf is becoming one of our more popular spring sports. Prospects for the 1965 season are bright.

Theme of Junior Prom

The Junior Prom for 1964 was held at the Blue Hills Country Club. The Junior class provided us with a very good band, greatly appreciated by all. Small gold pins and chains were given as favors. The atmosphere and attire combined to make the evening of dining and dancing a long to be remembered affair.

Dedication Of '64

Class night came upon us in a surprisingly short time. Committees organized and all material finally assembled, we practiced and produced a very good evening program. The annual reading of the history, will and prophecy proved extremely successful for the Class of '64.

Frederick E. Clapp Service Awards—Nancy M. Tarbell and Michael Lindblom

Topper was presented in dedication to Miss Eleanor Flynn on Class Night. And intersperced throughout the usual Class Night proceedings a drum and piano solo, vocal acts and an old tune with original lyrics were enjoyed by everyone. The Class Song for 1964 was rendered by the entire class to close this program one of the last class functions we were to hold as students of Walpole High School.

John D. Turco Award presented to Jerry Delaney by Coach Jordon.

"We shall now have our pledge of allegiance"

GRADUATION

Our graduation was held at the south quadrangle of the high school on June 9, 1964 at six in the evening. The Class of 1964 marched proudly under the arches carried by juniors in lovely evening gowns. Our graduation essayists were Erica Coburn, Susan Fish, Russell Jenney, and Roy Milbury speaking on the complex features of the Civil Rights issue.

Richard Delaney, Junior Class President, receives class gift from cousin Jerry Delaney, Senior Class President.

Mrs. Arthur W. Clapp, chairman of the Walpole School Committee, addresses the seniors.

Senior Class Motto

Yearbook Co-editors, Mike Cocci and Mike Lindblom receive their diplomas.

Valedictorian, Erica Coburn delivers her address.

John Grant, Student Government Day Representative, receives his diploma from Mrs. Clapp.

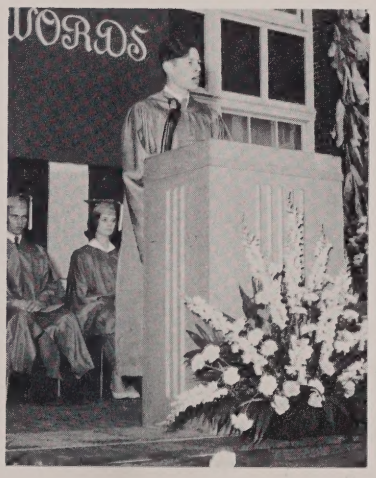
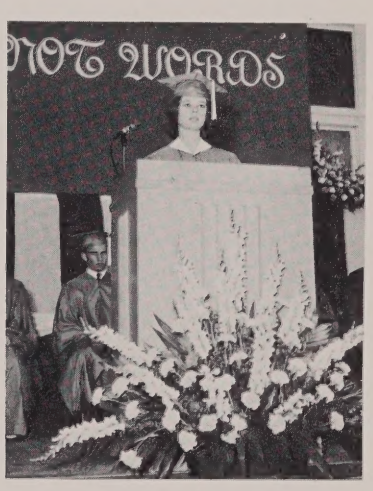
JUNE, 1964

We ascended the blue and white decorated stage to receive our diplomas with much gratitude for twelve years of hard work. The class song filled the air as we sang our song in praise of Walpole High. As the graduation program concluded, our thoughts and memories remained with Walpole High.

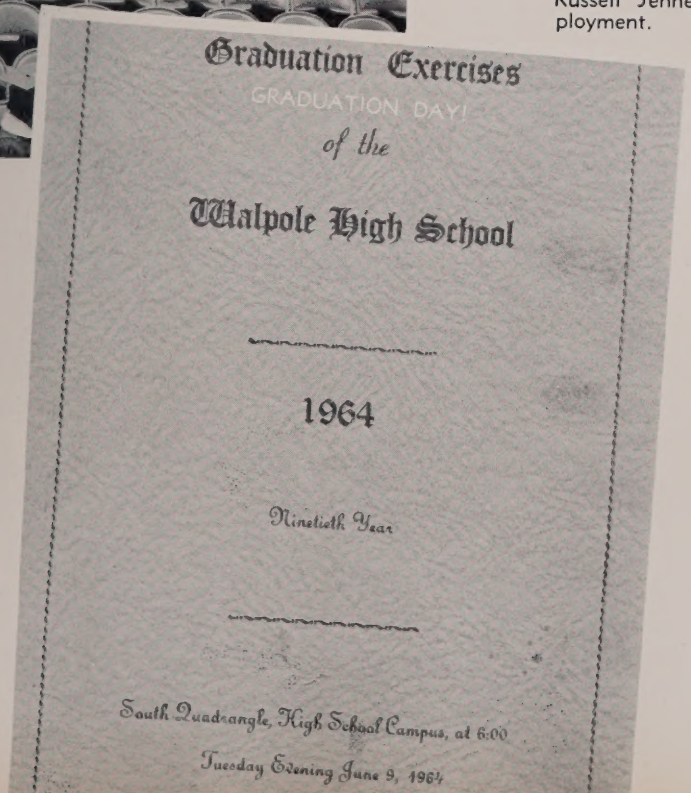
Roy Milbury leads off in the graduation speeches on civil rights.



Russell Jenney speaks on unemployment.



Susan Fish speaks on education.



The moment has arrived.
